- VII. Ombudsman Update -

LeeAnne Tucker provided an update on the Ombudsman Program in the four-county region. She communicated that all of the Area Agency on Aging (AAA) staff have been very busy over the past few weeks. A special focus is on the assisted living facilities. Cori Search and Telle King are the Ombudsmen currently serving the region. Cori Search (serving Henderson, Madison and parts of Buncombe County) shared that right now, Ombudsman cannot go into the facilities. Henderson County has a high level of the virus in their assisted living facilities. The Ombudsmen are contacting facilities frequently to offer assistance and ensure that residents are able to maintain contact with their families. One of the facilities in Henderson County currently has three cases of the virus and another facility has 27 cases with 5 staff members sick, too. Specific numbers on the level of positive confirmed cases has been hard to obtain from the facilities. In addition, several deaths have been caused by the virus. All facilities are requesting PPE, which has been very hard to come by. Currently, LOSRC has KN95 masks and some of those are going to the facilities. Contact is also maintained with facilities to determine how they are working with their residents to maintain their spirits and provide activities, with some facilities being very creative. AARP has offered to bring food and little goodies to affected facilities in Henderson County, which is greatly appreciated. Residents are in isolation, with specific staff assigned to their hall. Ombudsmen have mailed postcards to residents with their contact information. The calls that Ombudsman are receiving are the normal type of calls and no calls have been received about the virus. The Ombudsman have a weekly call with the State Ombudsman to determine best practices, etc. Any questions can be directed to Cori Search at cori@landofsky.org or 828-251-7433 (direct line).

VIII. Chairman's Comments and COVID-19 Roundtable – Chair Harris encouraged Delegates to share about conditions in their jurisdictions.

COVID-19 Roundtable -

John Mitchell – Shared that Henderson County is deep in budget season right now. The County manager and his team are looking into their crystal ball to attempt to determine the effect lower sales tax revenues are going to have on the budget. Likely, there will be the need to shift some priorities in the coming fiscal year. Coordinating the purchase of large amounts of PPE, which has been done with an across the board review of local firms and with DHT, to coordinate a regional effort to purchase PPE for industry. Vetting suppliers on our own to consider purchasing from overseas contacts. Also working with the State to obtain PPE. Shout out to Nathan Ramsey and LOSRC for purchasing KN95 masks from DHT, which will go a long ways to help the counties in the region. Weekly Q & A with Department of Public Health and Emergency Management staff began on Monday with an initiative to look at the situation if the governor amended or rescinded the emergency declaration. Working on best practices and hopes to send out a survey to businesses to produce guidelines to go along with whatever comes out of the governor's office. Also looking at the response from the Recreation Department and looking at the schedules for the National Forests' reopening.

Norris Gentry – Shared that Madison County is doing everything possible regarding the COVID-19 response. The County is blessed that there have been no confirmed cases. Citizens have been doing the right things to stay well. He encouraged everyone on this call to work on a bi-partisan effort to gain financial assistance from the federal government in a future round of stimulus and to reach out to federal elected officials and state officials. He thanked everyone in the region that have worked so hard together and with the state departments, too. He shared that the State is in a better position than many states due to the citizens and the actions of state and local officials. He reminded everyone to advocate to state and federal officials about the financial needs of local governments.

Barbara Volk – Shared that the City has followed along and worked very closely with Henderson County. To date, the City has held two virtual public meetings- City Council and the Planning Board. There is a learning curve to virtual meetings and we'reLearning as we go along. So far, the meetings have worked quite well. Social Media is being used to share COVID-19 information. Links to school system are provided and the goal is to get as much as information as possible out to the citizens. Rhythm and Brews postponed to June. Downtown group working with the Arts Council to highlight two restaurants that have carryout and then folks can tune into a virtual art show.

John Connet - Shared that citizens are at home and government workers are still coming into work. Starting to take temperatures and prepare for the next level when reopening begins. Working on the budget. All current positions are frozen. Considering impact of less tax revenues. Working closely with the County. Mike Hawkins – Shared that Transylvania County is doing many of the same things that the other counties are doing, including trying to obtain PPE. Engaged in the budget process during a challenging time for planning. At the Commissioners' meeting on Monday night, an ordinance passed that prohibites any type of leisure activity in the County in an attempt to curtail any surge in the virus. The ordinance expires at the end of the month. The County also needs to provide services by the Rescue Squad. Working with many partners in the County on a Small Business Support Grant program. The Commissioners are seriously considering a more substantial program funded by the County to support businesses in the coming months. He also shared that the County is blessed to have had only a few cases.

Maureen Copelof – Shared that the City of Brevard is working with the County to coordinate on protective orders. One of the interesting things brought out is that the community has really come together and groups in the community have made cloth masks. The City held its first virtual Council meeting this week. Additionally, the website and Social Media are being utilized to get accurate information out to the community. Working closely with the Chamber to support local businesses so they can remain viable. Recreation facilities closed but the trail system is open. Access to the French Broad River remains open, too. Brevard Music Center has canceled their summer program. There is going to be economic impact from that and the City is looking at putting a bare bones budget in place.

Jonathan Kanipe – Shared that the Town of Biltmore Forest has had its public facilities closed since March 8. All Town staff are essential and most are coming into the office. Only one employee is working remotely from home. He shared appreciation to Nathan Ramsey and LOSRC for procuring the KN95 masks. The Town has ordered some face shields as well. Working on the budget for the remainder of this year and for the upcoming year. The Town enjoys good relations with other local governments, which are strengthened by the crisis.

Maggie Tuttle – Shared that the Town of Black Mountain has opened up the golf course and citizens are cooperating and respectful. She noted that the Town has been very fortunate during the pandemic.

Josh Harrold– Thanked Nathan Ramsey and the Board for working to get the KN95 masks. He shared that the Town is working to determine what the revenue shortfalls might be and developing the budget. Most of the Town staff are still working. Parks are closed but greenways are open. Citizens have been very understanding. He noted the importance of local governments having cash on hand.

Preston Blakely – Shared that the Town of Fletcher is under the County's Declaration and is maintaining a normal level of services. Bill Moore Park is open for the walking trails only. Meetings are virtual via Zoom. The Town is working through the budget process and facing the same struggles as other local governments. Nathan Bennett – Shared that the Town of Mars Hill echoes Commissioner Gentry's sentiments in that there are no confirmed cases in the county. Remote meetings are being held with the County's Emergency Management staff. The Town met early with Mars Hill University (MHU) to get the organization shut down. There is Wi-Fi access around the University. People are using the school's parking lots to access it and do distance learning and other online activities. The Town held its Board meeting on March 10, since then meetings have been canceled until further notice. Continuing all essential Town activities. Everyone is looking forward to seeing the light at the end of the tunnel.

Patrick Fitzsimmons – Shared that the Town of Weaverville has only one confirmed case of the virus. The Town is facing the same budget concerns as other jurisdictions. He also shared that the Town opened the trails in the parks yesterday.

Bob Tomasulo – Shared that the Regional Aging Advisory Council (RAAC) has been monitoring the assisted living facilities while it is not possible to send the Ombudsmen out into the field. The RAAC is using virtual meetings to keep everyone connected.

Albert Gooch – Shared that the Village of Flat Rock is quiet. The Park is open and the Village is considering having a May meeting. He noted that the budget process is underway in the Village.

Daniel Cobb – Shared that the Town of Mils River closed the park several weeks ago but the greenway is open. The Town is facing the same issues as other municipalities. Updates are made to the Town's website daily with little snippets of news and the current virus numbers. The Town is conducting Social Media outreach and posting pictures of staff in facemasks. The Town's staff is small and work schedules have been staggered. The Town's offices are open to the public so people can pay their taxes, etc. He noted that the Comprehensive Plan Steering Committee meeting scheduled at the beginning of May and it may not be in a virtual setting. The Town's biggest priority is keeping the park open and clean. Other than that, all is well in the Mills River. As an afterthought, Manager Cobb shared that he walks around the park with his (super hero) cape when folks' spirits need a lift.

George Morosani – Shared that everyone is hunkered down in their homes at the moment, so not much is going on with real estate development.

Brittany Brady – Shared that the Henderson County Partnership for Economic Development (the Partnership) is working to help businesses find resources. The partnership is also part of the task force to re-open the Henderson County safely.

Laura Leatherwood – Shared that Blue Ridge Community College (BRCC) has shifted all seated learning to online formats. The college continues to train nurses, law enforcement, etc. that will be needed to deal with COVID-19. Many people, who have been dislocated from their jobs, are showing up at the NCWorks Career Centers on the colleges two campuses. Career center staff are working to get folks into training or helping them apply for UI. She noted that the lifeblood of the college is serving small businesses. More small businesses and owners have been served through BRCC than any other community college in the state. In addition, Dr. Leatherwood shared that the college donated most of their PPE to AdventHealth and Pardee Hospital. As many ventilators, as possible, were donated, too.

Chair Harris - Shared that it's encouraging to see everyone step up and he shared appreciation to the businesses that have had to close as they have made a difference, too. Thankful for the blessing of the virus not creating anymore death and sickness than it has.

Drew Christy – Shared that the Governor is charting a path forward while citizens continue to stay at home. Hoping to avoid a potentially dangerous spike in COVID-19 cases by keeping the stay home, stay safe order in place. The plan going forward relies on more testing, contact tracing, etc. to help stop the spread and avoid a spike. Furloughed employees can now apply for UI benefits. In addition, UI benefits may be allowed for currently furloughed workers, who continue to receive payment for prior weeks from employers. UI claims filed according to guidance for each employer receiving COVID-19 support payment. Reach out to Drew with questions.

Robin Ramsey – Shared that the US Forest Service was asked by local communities to shut down federal lands. When local communities are ready to open back up, let her know and she will share that information with the Forest Service. She shared that the latest stimulus bill for $184 billion has passed the Senate and is in the House- more funding is coming down. Robin Ramsey shared that she has heard from many communities about budget shortfalls. She assured that this would not be the last stimulus bill. Encouraged jurisdictions to reach out to her and the other congressional staffers about their budget shortfalls. Chair Harris – Shared t on behalf of Mission Hospital and CarePartners, a very encouraging report that only three people hospitalized at Mission in very serious condition. The number of confirmed cases in Buncombe County is right around 42. He noted that there have been good reports from the healthcare sector. Zero employees at Mission and CarePartners have contracted the virus. The hospital has over 400 empty beds and the patient count at CarePartners is substantially down, too. Ventilators at Mission, but those are not currently needed.
