Most of the residents were in their rooms, as is usual, but the kids went into the rooms, talked with the residents, then played bingo with them. The residents were all clean and well tended to. They had no complaints. One is happy staying there during rehab with only brief visits home. Another was concerned that his caregiver was planning to move him to a rest home. Everyone felt the care was excellent.

It is so nicely furnished and spacious, residents in other facilities would not believe it. In each of the four wings there is a large comfortable common room plus another between the AD and BC wings. That BC room had a very large chess set, large bowling pins and large ring toss in addition to the large TV in each common room. However few resident are ever in these rooms, preferring their own rooms rather than mingling with other residents. In the secure dementia unit everyone is usually out in the common room with an activity but this time the activity was quiet hour listening to music
